ABOUT ME

Hi there! I've done computer science and have a passion for cyber security. I have honed my programming skills through the completion of various semester projects, as well as a 1-year experience of developing software for professional purposes. My expertise spans across languages such as C++, HTML, CSS, PHP, Laravel, Bootstrap, and WordPress. Not only I'm skilled in software development, but I also possess a strong problem-solving ability in marketing and computer software-related issues. I am eager to apply my skills and continue learning and growing in this field.
